

Biometrics is the Future of Identity

Our fingerprints, our faces, ourselves.

We use our fingerprints and our faces to access our phones and unlock financial apps and password managers. Biometric technology has become a part of our everyday lives. More and more, businesses and agencies recognize biometrics as a superior, individualized alternative to ID cards and other outdated methods.

With advanced technology, military-grade security, and the best service network in the business, we help organizations realize the full potential of biometric identities at scale.

authentication is secure or very secure.

SureID systems have processed over half a billion biometric-based access events.

We make identity verification secure, easy and convenient by:

- Securely capturing biometrics at a SureID Registration Station
- Storing and transmitting data. SureID meets strict government standards for biometric data storage and transmission.
- Verifying your identity. Our identity verification algorithms authorize using securely encrypted biometric data.

Revolutionary Technology

SureID is revolutionizing the way organizations collect, manage, and use biometric information to better serve their customers and visitors. We provide:

- Advanced technology
- Military-grade security
- The best service network in the business
